

THE NEWS IN PERSPECTIVE

By PAUL PULTZER

The Fabian hypocrites in American government, institutions, and society have chalked up another major victory. Brushing aside the will of the majority of the American people, this subversive elite minority amongst us, dedicated to an alien ideo-political philosophy and wielding political power over us way out of proportion to their numbers, managed to kill the proposed amendment to return prayer to public schools. These parasitical termites were able to do this even though a majority of 240-to-162 in the House of Representatives favored the proposal and because the balloting fell 28 votes short of the two-thirds majority required to affect an amendment to the Constitution. And so, after a nine-year long battle to reverse the 1962 and 1963 Supreme Court decisions which outlawed prayer in public schools on the grounds that it violated the freedom of religion guaranteed by the First Amendment, the forces of good in America had to surrender to the forces of evil. But only because that deaf, dumb, and blind "great silent majority" couldn't have cared less and because that deaf, dumb, and blind "great silent majority" silently accepted the anti-American capers of 162 congressmen who should never have been elected to office by them in the first place. It follows that their senatorial selections are no better. Never have so many been suckered by so few.

The recent assassination of the prayer amendment re-spotlighted how the all-powerful enemies of pro-Americanism operate in government to achieve their ends after having hoodwinked the ignorant electorate into voting them into positions of policymaking power in government. It also stripped bare how outside, ideo-political pressure groups, representing only small minorities with selfish interests, aid and abet their ideo-political lackeys in Washington. With sanctimonious hypocrites like these amongst us exercising political power, we need no enemies. In fact, with the silent acquiescence of our "great silent majority" of 1968 fame, they are going to put out the lights in America and bury us all under the yoke of slavery.

The defeat of Rep. Chalmers P. Wylie's (R-Ohio) proposal is extremely important in the sense that the issue decided, representing a moral and spiritual principle peculiar to America alone, brought two opposite forces into collision and effectuated a clear-cut showdown. The forces of evil won, the forces of good lost. This decision proves who is now in supreme command of our destiny as a nation and people and who is going to have to obey or else. America's course in world history, as charted by our Founding Fathers, has been aborted. The damage done is irreparable. We have now been steered on a course mapped out by Satan. We are now on a toboggan slide into hell and damnation as a once sovereign nation and as a free people once living the good life under Divine Providence. For having cowardly shied away from getting involved in the fight against evil, we deserve everything waiting in store for us!

The abolition of prayer in public schools, an innocent act of no serious consequence to the Judeo-Masonic concept of a separation between Church and State, was brought about by the impudent actions of a self-styled atheist of questionable background and character. This woman, Mrs. Madalyn Murray O'Hair, figuratively surfacing on the American landscape from out of nowhere, single-handedly defied an established American custom and tradition, as well as the will of almost the entire nation, and filed the court action which finally reached the cursed Warren Court for a definitive ruling. That this woman could accomplish such an insidious feat in America with absolute impunity, does not speak well at all for the character of most Americans. Neither is it a feather in the caps of the Supreme Court, the Kennedy Administration, and the Johnson Administration. As a matter of fact, Mrs. O'Hair showed up American government, institutions, and society as a joint venture in duplicity, hypocrisy, and fraud when the Warren Court ruled in favor of her legal petition in 1962 and 1963.

While America slept, a few concerned Americans counter-attacked the Warren Court's disregard for common, human decency. This resulted, in 1964, in the holding of extensive hearings by the House Judiciary Committee, which has been chaired ad nauseam by Emanuel Celler (D-N.Y.). Mr. Celler, always true to his ideo-political colors — which vary between the shades of red, pink, and lavender — decided that his committee could write MADALYN O'HAIR, the modern Voltaire, self-styled "most hated woman in the world," pioneered the successful fight outlawing prayer in public schools. Words of Mrs. O'Hair speak for themselves: "I find the Bible to be nauseating, historically inaccurate, replete with the ravings of madmen. I find God to be sadistic, brutal and representation of hatred, vengeance. We find the Lord's prayer to be that muttered by worms grovelling for their meager existence in a traumatic world."

no prayer amendment that "did not do violence to the First Amendment." How it happened that prayer in public schools did not do violence to the First Amendment before the likes of Mrs. O'Hair polluted the atmosphere, was not explained. The same question, applicable to the Supreme Court, Congress, and the White House, was also bypassed. But, as could be expected, Mr. Celler, like a hen sitting on what she hopes to hatch as golden eggs, sat on this issue for over seven years until, finally, Rep. Wylie forced him, by means of a discharge petition signed by a MAJORITY of House members, to release it for a decision on the floor. What happened, is now a matter of record.

Protestant, Catholic, and Jewish groups, in defiance of common sense and reason, opposed the amendment on the dubious grounds that it would lead to government regulation of religion. This, of course, is a lot of ideo-political doubletalk and hogwash. The American Jewish Congress, for example, claimed that "the prayer amendment would have set a dangerous precedent, paving the way to other limitations of basic liberties such as freedom of speech, press and assembly." This argument, too, adds up to nonsensical prattle. Moreover, it also goes to prove that organized Jewry in America has yet to shake itself loose from a ghetto-forged mentality out of place entirely in their land of milk and honey. The entire crew of screwballs, in fact, adhered to the Fabian Socialist party-line as promulgated by what is called the "Liberal Establishment" in America which, in turn, is part and parcel of the God-less MONEY POWER which really rules the roost. Even more disgusting, 343 law school deans and professors backed them up with yodel-like tunes emanating out of bleeding hearts, which goes to prove that our college students could learn much more if they had 343 less deans and professors to put up with.

When all is said and done about this defeat, the sanctimonious hypocrisy behind it remains as an ironical reminder of how low American justice has sunk. The two Houses of Congress continue to open each session with a prayer; inscribed on the wall behind the speaker's chair in the House is the motto "In God We Trust" while the same motto adorns our worthless dollar bill; the President takes his oath of office with a hand on the Bible and, today, there are weekly services in the White House; and the Supreme Court, which is responsible for this tomfoolery, opens each session with the prayerful plea: "GOD SAVE THIS HONORABLE COURT."

With a wave of sanctimonious hypocrisy like this swamping our land, we should all get down on our knees and pray:

"GOD HELP US!"

LETTER FROM FREE CHINA

Years ago a certain gentleman made a bold, spectacular and far-reaching move which was widely approved by his contemporary compatriots

For a small monetary compensation he sold his friends to the powerful elite of bankers and politicians, but, alas, he did not live long to enjoy his fame and the fruits of his deed!

Following in the steps of his famous predecessor, Mr. Nixon sold his friends to exactly the same elite, but, naturally enough, for a much higher sum.

He is also praised and applauded from all sides — but will he be able to reap the profits of this deal?

That is the question!

But, quite obviously, Mr. Richard Nixon already secured an honorable place in history only a little bit below that which is occupied by Mr. Judas Iscariot . . .

"The Republican and Democratic parties are the Left and Right wing of the same bird of prey — the banker. What our country needs is a Liberator Party."

REV. CHARLES E. COUGHLIN,
Radio Priest of the 1930s.
